A STRIKING STATEMENT BY A FORMER ASSEMBLYMAN FROM MENDOCINO COUNTY

You ask my views as to the "Wright law" passed by the last legislature, and now under referendum. You know that I have always been opposed to National prohibition, on the ground that it was legislation in advance of public sentiment in many localities, and that, therefore, it would result in a disregard for the law, which, in turn, breeds disrespect for all law, and thus creates what to my mind is one of the most dangerous conditions that can exist. What we need more than anything else is respect for law, whether we like the law or not.

I would personally prefer a law that makes a given territory wet or dry, as the people so vote it. While I was a member of the Legislature I consistently voted for a local option law, because if people vote a district dry, those same people will see that the law is obeyed.

But my view is that so long as the National prohibition amendment has been adopted, and the Volstead law passed, even if I did not favor such a course, it is the duty of every citizen to see that the law is enforced. The Constitution gives the state the right to enforce the prohibition law concurrently with the Federal Government and this right, to my mind amounts to a duty. Congress has said what may or may not be done under the prohibition amendment, and in my opinion the state and every subdivision of the state should assist the Federal Government in enforcing the Volstead law. This is all that the "Wright law" provides for, and if the Volstead law is amended, the Wright law is automatically amended with it, and I therefore propose to vote for the Wright law. I was opposed to the Harris law because it went further than the Volstead law.

Ukiah City, wherein I reside, has voted wet on local option, but in conformity with the spirit that actuates all good citizens, is lending its aid to the Federal Government in enforcing the Volstead law, by adopting an ordinance in line with it. The same is true of the county, of which Ukiah is the county seat. These local ordinances, however, have a limited scope, and a uniform state law, such as the Wright law, would tend to equal enforcement throughout the state.

I am not one of those who believe that it is wrong to oppose any change in the prohibition amendment or in the Volstead law, and if the people want to repeal the National amendment, or want to change the Volstead law, it is their privilege to do so; and in that I find the greatest reason for my support of the Wright law. If light wines and beer are permitted by and change in the Volstead law, the Wright law will also permit it. All that the Wright law seems to me to provide is, that so long as we have National prohibition, California will help the nation in enforcing it. The Wright law does not make prohibition at all. It accepts prohibition as a fact, and provides for its enforcement, only to the extent that Congress forbids the traffic in intoxicants. W. D. I. HELD

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN!

Two or three years ago anyone could work in a Shoe Shop, but today the people want the best kind of work—they know. So I looked all over Los Angeles and nearby towns and picked the best man that could be found and as luck would have it I secured him as my partner. He makes out of old shoes entirely new ones. His special work is ladies' fancy shoes. He is the finest shoe man in this part of the country because he has made them all his life.

All we ask is give us a trial, for which we thank you in advance.

Yours truly
